

Join us in fighting bird flu...

Be responsible... Make it possible

To avoid infection, do not touch or approach dead birds

Cover poultry cages to prevent infection from migrating birds

Wear protective equipment when working with birds

To avoid infection, do not slaughter or defeather birds at home
Leave it to a professional who wears protective equipment

If you are working closely with birds and have flu-like symptoms, go to hospital immediately

To prevent spread of disease, do not shoot migrating birds

POULTRY

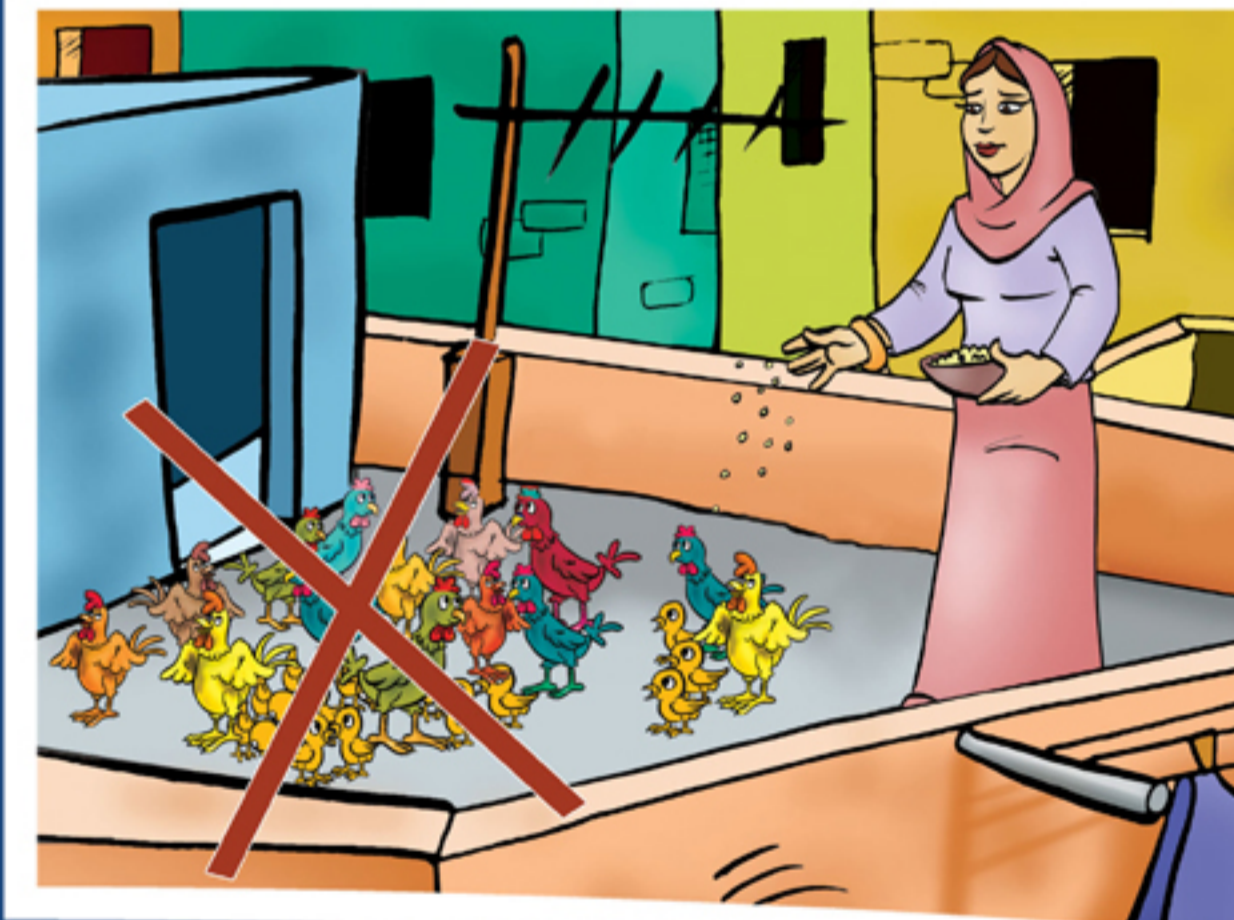

To avoid disease do not buy live birds

If you are working closely with birds and have flu-like symptoms, go to hospital immediately

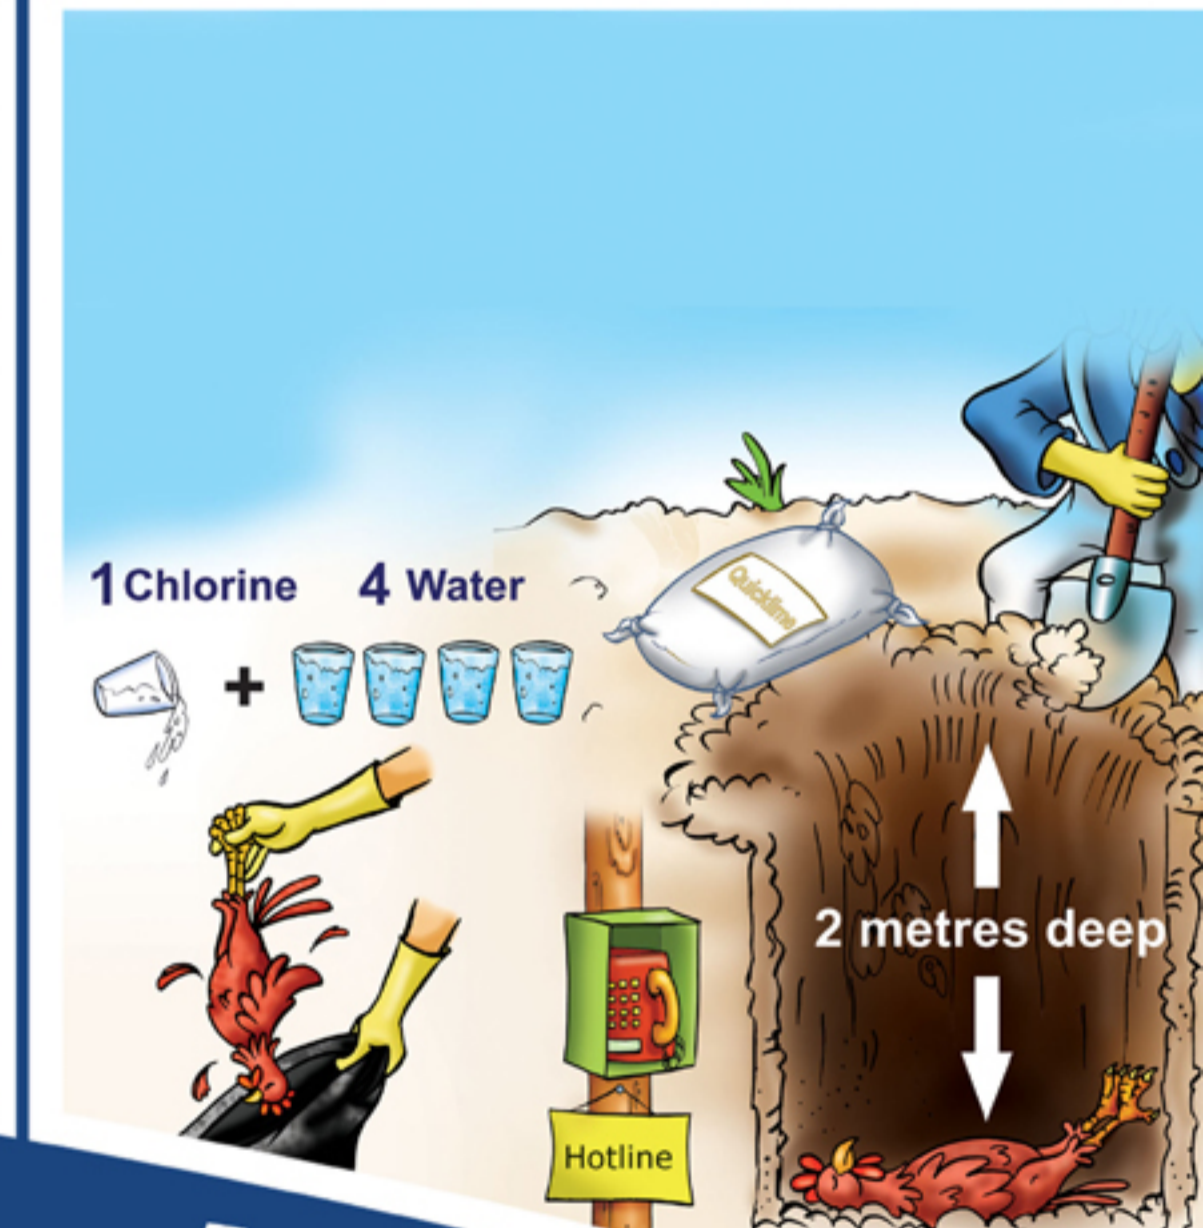

Boiled eggs and well cooked poultry are safe to eat

To prevent spread of disease, do not raise poultry on rooftops

Wash your hands with soap and water to avoid infection

To dispose of dead birds, bury them in a deep hole or pour water and chlorine on them and put them in the rubbish in sturdy bags